The screenshot shows three separate windows of Visual Studio Code (VS Code) running on a Windows operating system. Each window displays an HTML file for a photography website.

- Top Window: Shows the global CSS styles for the website. The code includes styles for the `body`, `header`, `h2`, `table`, `th`, `td`, `img`, and `.section` elements.
- Middle Window: Shows the styles for the `.section` element and its child elements. It includes styles for `input`, `select`, `textarea`, `button`, `.testimonial`, `.rating`, and the `<body>` element.
- Bottom Window: Shows the full HTML structure. It includes the `<head>` and `<body>` sections, along with the `<header>`, `<h1>`, ``, and `<table>` elements.

Each VS Code window has a status bar at the bottom showing the line number (Ln 107), column number (Col 143), spaces (Spaces: 4), encoding (UTF-8), and port (port: 5500). The taskbar at the bottom of the screen also shows various application icons.
